

Monarch House Peer Run Respite Volunteer Application

About the Monarch House

Monarch House Peer Run Respite is a voluntary, non-medical program for individuals who are experiencing crises or emotional distress. Monarch House provides a home-like space where guests can access peer support 24/7, enjoy a peaceful environment, and explore a variety of healing modalities to assist them toward their self-directed path to wellness. Upon arrival, guests may stay up to five nights. Guests have access to all common areas as well as to their private bedroom equipped with keypad locks and lockboxes.

Monarch House is free of charge for any Wisconsin residents over the age of 18. In addition to the respite, Monarch House provides over-the-phone support 24/7 by operating a warmline. Monarch House is staffed by team members who have lived experience of mental health challenges, substance use challenges, or other emotionally distressing events.
